MEET YOUR OCEAN BEACH NEIGHBORS

William L. Brittian

(Studio of the Cliffs)

The spotlight swings this week to William L. Brittian, commander of Clyde A. Wright Post No. 433 of the American Legion. Although not a native of California (who is, anyway?) Mr. Brittian is enthusiastic about this state in general and Ocean Beach in particular.

Born in Shamokin, Pa., on July 20, 1899, Bill moved with his parents to Baltimore, Md., where he attended school. He left high school in 1917 to enlist in the United States Navy. Assigned to the battleship Wyoming as a machinist, Bill served overseas during most of World War I. The Wyoming was attached to the British Grand Fleet and operated in the North Sea. His ship was among those which escorted the surrendered German Fleet to Scapa Flow, Scotland, where the Germans scuttled the ships.

Discharged in 1919, Bill went to work on the Baltimore City Police force, serving until 1926, when he resigned and went to work as a landscaper and florist for a Baltimore firm. Later he was employed by the Bethlehem Steel Co. in Baltimore as a machinist. He resigned in 1940 to reenter government service with the Navy Department.

Transferred to Pearl Harbor in May, 1941, Bill was there at the time of the December 7 attack. He was injured in March, 1942, and was evacuated to the United States in April of that year.

Having been impressed by the beauty of San Diego when he stopped here briefly en route to Pearl Harbor in 1941, Bill determined to make this his home, and moved here permanently in May, 1944.

Bill married Mabel Bodenschatz in Baltimore in 1942. They live at 4985 Del Monte Ave. Although his major employment is landscaping, Bill spends his evening hours tending bar at Sherman's Dine and Dance in San Diego.

Bill's hobby is carving figures out of peach stones. Asked how he got started in this unusual hobby, Bill said, "I once saw a railroad fireman trying to carve a monkey out of a peachstone and decided that I could do better than that. That's what got me started." Bill has become an expert in the art and his carvings of animals are life-like and authentic.

Bill is hard at work on plans and preparations for the construction of the new Legion hall on Muir Ave. The forthcoming Legion show "Dimouts of 1947," the proceeds of which will go toward building the new hall, is occupying most of Bill's spare time right now.

Knox Announces His Candidacy for San Diego Mayor

Just before he left for Washington to represent the city at the senate hearing on the fate of the San Diego aqueduct, Mayor Harley Knox announced his candidacy for reelection.

Mayor Harley Knox

Citing his eight years city service, four years as a councilman, and four as the city's chief executive, Knox pointed to the many unfinished reconversion problems facing San Diego.

Many important negotiations, started with the Navy, must be completed, such as restoration of facilities used by the Navy during the war, assumption by the federal government of its share of city's expenditures as a result of the war, and completion of the greater airport program, which include a 1500-acre private flying field on Kearney Mesa, and joint use with the Navy of the $6,000,000 Miramar airport.

Mayor Knox ranked water as the No. 1 problem, and stressed the urgency for completing the aqueduct to bring Colorado river water to San Diego taps. He also is leading the fight to have the government assume its responsibility to the city on its use of stored up water reserves.

Wants Bay Project Completed

Completion of the great Mission Bay project, well-started by the administration, also was cited as one of the unfinished projects. Other phases of the overall recreational program include adequate beach cleaning in all areas; development of Balboa Park as a play center for all ages; a planned program for swimming pools at schools, and municipal

Design for New Arts Building Gets City's Approval

Orren R. Louden, director of the San Diego School of Arts and Crafts, reported Wednesday that an architect's model, showing the exterior design of the school's proposed new buildings, has met with the satisfaction of city officials.

The miniature buildings are set on an imitation plot of ground closely resembling the school's contemplated site near the intersection of Cable and Orchard Sts. at the ocean's crest. The model is presently displayed in the office of this newspaper in the Strand Theater building. Director Louden provides the following description of the buildings:

The new school will consist of two buildings made from strained steel, concrete tiles, and stucco which are connected in the rear by a sheltered cloister supported by a Spanish-style colonnade. This blends into a quaint patio with fountain in the center, all being visible from an eight foot front opening that separates the streamlined offices on one side from the reading room and lounge on the other. At either front extremity is a stucco tower ascending to a line just above the building's roof. Large areas of glass brick add distinctive modernism to the school while at the same time allow a generous flow of translucent light to flood the studios.

This typically Californian structure with its unique and pleasant architecture is certain to enhance the beauty of the picturesque neighborhood on the cliffs.

"From a business standpoint the school, which already claims students from all parts of America, is destined to become a good, permanent asset, further serving to advance education in San Diego county as well as Southern California as a whole.

"With proper support, the proposed expansion for this already-going, cultural enterprise will perhaps establish itself as a cherished milestone in the growth of our community."

C of C to Discuss Azure Vistans Problem at March Meeting Monday

FOUR HUNDRED FAMILIES IN U. S. HOUSING PROJECT CONCERNED OVER STATUS

The acute problem of the Azure Vista federal housing project will have an airing at the March meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held Monday evening at 7:30 at the Woman's clubhouse. This will be the regular March meeting for all members, men and women, and will not be a dinner meeting.

Program Chairman Dick Hilmen and President F. F. Swan have arranged for Wm. Emerson, Point Loma high school faculty member, to speak on the problem of these 1500 residents of the Azure Vista section of Ocean Beach. An opportunity also will be given for discussion.

In behalf of these 400 Azure Vista families Mr. Emerson, who has been a resident of the project for three years, conferred Wednesday with officers of the Chamber of Commerce. He said that what the project folks are really concerned about is that Uncle Sam will declare the 400 homes there war surplus before the residents have had an opportunity to rent or buy homes. Because of the acute San Diego housing shortage the 400 families there regards that as an unusually serious problem.

Mr. Emerson reports that the vast majority of the 400 Azure Vista families are doing their trading in Ocean Beach. In view of that fact every local merchant is interested and owes it to himself to be at the Monday night meeting, President F. F. Swan stated Thursday. Every member and all others interested, both men and women, are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

OCEAN BEACH COUPLES COVER 1100 MILES ON WEEK-END MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lownes, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Reed and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Plant motored 1,111 miles over the last week-end and saw both "snow-covered mountains and sunny desert," said Mrs. Jones. The four couples, in two cars, went to Las Vegas, Nev., last Friday where they spent that night and the second night, Saturday, was spent in Lone Pine, Calif. They saw Boulder Dam also during this time and returned on Sunday, through the high Sierras, to San Diego. A highlight of the trip was their stop in Death Valley.

The head measures 15 inches each way across and weighs slightly over 10 pounds. Donna Rae grew the cauliflower in her own garden and when asked if she could do it again she said, "You should see the one we ate."

Laux Tells Lions Of Work of Vets Information Center

Work of the San Diego Veterans Information Center was outlined to the Ocean Beach Lions club in a talk Thursday, Feb. 20, by Joseph Laux, director of the Center. Laux explained that the first main function of the veterans' agency was to provide information to veterans which will enable them to contact quickly the government department most able to help with a given problem. Secondly the Information Center acts as a co-ordinating body for all of the governmental and other services set up to help veterans with their problems. The other major service rendered by the Center, according to Laux, was the maintenance of the Citizens Advisory Panel, a group of local men meeting regularly to assist local veterans.

Director Laux discussed three existing problems of the veterans and their application to San Diego. The three were housing, employment and hospitalization and out-patient care for those unable to afford it.

Lion Ed Schoen was program chairman for the meeting.

Wm. Valentine, local real estate man, was introduced by President Bill Stone and explained the purposes of the reorganization of the Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce and some of the plans of the new group's directors. Also appearing before the members was Roy Orrick of the American Legion who read a letter from Bill Cook, former Point Loma High school student, who had been jointly sponsored by the Legion and Lions club to the annual Boys State meeting at Sacramento last year.

SAILBOAT THROWS TRIO INTO BAY BUT FIVE-YEAR-OLD WANTS TO SAIL AGAIN

Douglas Hunt and Bill McClellan with Mr. McClellan's son Michael, 5, were thrown into Mission bay Sunday while sailing in Mr. Hunt's sailboat. According to Mrs. McClellan the trio ran onto a mud flat because of a broken rudder, which caused the accident. Michael was rescued immediately but Mr. Hunt and Mrs. McClellan were not so fortunate since they were forced to remain in the water for two hours waiting for a boat to come and pick them up.

Says Michael, "The water was plenty cold but I want to go sailing again soon."

Mrs. Ellsworth and her husband had devoted much time to the cultivation of the flowers at their home after Mr. Ellsworth retired from the Russ Lumber Co. where he had held an executive position for 25 years. She was a member of the Bethany Lutheran church. Mrs. Ellsworth was an aunt of Mrs. Ona Ellsworth Pitcock of Ocean Beach who died last week Wednesday in a local hsopital.

Wright Post No. 433 donated a total of $50.20 to the fund being raised by the posts in California for the "most disabled veteran" in the state, The News was informed this week. The building houses 17 firms, among which is the Seville Theater, one of the Keogh theaters. Albert Keogh of 4845 Santa Monica Ave. is one of the owners of the circuit.

Revived Mission Bay C. of C. Plans For Advertising

An ambitious program for pushing the development of the Mission Bay area was outlined here Monday night by speakers for the reorganized Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce. Steven Young and Wm. H. Valentine of Ocean Beach were the main speakers for the Bay organization and Milton Lancaster and Secretary Rolin W. Shaw for the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce at a joint dinner conference of the directors of the two groups, held at Desmond's Cafe.

Young outlined an aggressive program of advertising the attractions of this area, especially to tourists, and also indicated that he was in position to attract eastern capital possibly to the extent of a million dollars. He offered to put up $1000 if some other local contributor would put up a similar amount in order to obtain the million dollars he had in mind as likely available in the east. He suggested the chances were good to get Cook's Tours to include the Mission Bay area as one of the Pacific coast attractions for patrons of that travel set-up.

Seeks Prevention of Honky-Tonks

Valentine stated that the whole idea of the reorganization of the Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce is to promote the development of the Bay area and to see to it that undesirable elements and "honky-tonk" concessions were kept out of this recreation area.

Joe Beardsley of Ocean Beach, one of the directors of the revamped organization, declared that instead of the new commercial group having any intention of tearing down the existing Chambers of Commerce of Pacific Beach, Mission Beach and Ocean Beach, that these groups should continue to function in their respective areas. He said the larger group aimed principally to coordinate the projects that

Kiwanians Told World Court and Police Is Answer

A world court and an international police force are the most likely to bring about world peace, Judge Dean Sherry of the San Diego Superior court told the local Kiwanis club at Tuesday night's meeting. That is especially true as long as we have gangster nations as well as men, he said. Hyram Glaser presided as program chairman.

Judge Sherry told the Kiwanians his story of 3½ years as prisoner of the Japs. His experiences included the infamous Bataan "death march" following the surrender of the Americans at Corregidor in the Philippines. The speaker minced no words in describing that rugged and horrible experience, possibly the worst of which was the burial alive of Americans and Filipinos along the line of that 60-mile march lasting 10 days.

"What happened over there should never be allowed to happen again," he said. He particularly censured our nation for permitting such criminal unpreparedness as was shown in the U. S. campaign to hold the Philippine Islands.

He related incidents of the terrible starvation and mistreatment of the prisoners, himself included, and concluded by paying high tribute to religion as the thing that sustained, physically as well as spiritually, the Americans who came out alive.

The experience that likely hurt him the most, the judge said, was the 23 months that he went without any word from his family.

James E. Restine, who has had 25 years experience as a plumber, announces that he will open a new plumbing shop for Ocean Beach March 1. His place of business will be in the Wilhoit building at 5004 Niagara Ave. Restine has been a resident of San Diego for 55 years, he says.

Revived Mission

the entire Bay area have in common, particularly the Mission Bay recreational area development.

Tells of Fishing Pier

Speaking for the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce Milton Lancaster outlined its history and told of the progress that had been made in the last two years in organizing a strong commercial group in this community, one that includes both the Newport Ave. and Voltaire-West Point Loma business sections. He related the history of the Del Monte Ave. fishing pier, giving credit to Carl Schroder for starting the project, and told of the efforts the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce has put forth to obtain completion of the pier.

He also mentioned the local group's declared policy of cooperating not only with the other Chambers of Commerce of the Bay area but also with the downtown San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary Shaw told of the achievements of the local Chamber of Commerce in beach improvement and particularly in getting the city to put in two-hour parking regulations in the Newport Ave. business district. The latter, he said, has gone a long ways to solve the traffic congestion problem that has been a "headache" to local shoppers.

Other directors of the reorganized Mission Bay group present were Marshall "Red" Malcolm of Ocean Beach, Richard B. Johnston of La Jolla, Ben F. Moore Jr. of Pacific Beach, and Robert Heatherington of Bay Park Village. Other directors of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce present were Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Homer Gravelle, Richard Hilmen, Glen Jones, R. E. Miller, Arnold Morss, Purcell Webb and the president, F. F. Swan. All of those present joined in the discussion.

Mass Meeting Thursday

A mass meeting to complete reorganization of the Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce was held last night at the Shalimar club on Pacific highway, with several hundred of prospective members in attendance. Since The News went to press before the meeting a report on the action taken will be published next week.

Cabrillo's three ships left Navidad, Mexico, on June 27, 1542, and first sighted San Diego Harbor on September 28, the same year. Cabrillo and his companions came ashore on Point Loma at what is now called Ballast Point. Located near the Old Spanish Lighthouse, the monument is part of the Cabrillo National Monument in Fort Rosecrans, which is now open to the public.

GIRL SCOUTS ACTIVITIES

(By Mrs. George White)

The girls of Brownie Troop 112 are learning three "International" dances this month. They are folk dances of Mexico, Russia and the Netherlands.

Birthday month was celebrated by Brownie Troop 207 at their last meeting. Singing, dancing and a monthly outing keep these young scouts busy. This troop is still leaderless and may have to disband unless a leader is found soon.

Rodney and Barney Leonard, also Sally Smith of Scout Troop 127, have come to four meetings and are eligible to become scouts. Sally Bonham is a transfer coming into the troop. Mrs. Margaret Knights, co-leader, taught the troop to sing "Hymn of Scouting" last Wednesday and "Red Rover" was the game played by the girls.

Troop 165 is busy making a baby quilt and tray for their child care badge. Mrs. Roll Keck helped with the serving last week Wednesday. "The Ash Grove," a scout song was taught by Mrs. George White, the leader, and during the meeting on outdoor game "Stealing Sticks" was played. Next week Mary Dinkheller and Joan White will be hostesses for the meeting, furnishing the goodies to eat.

DRIVE SAFELY

When driving from an alley, lane or private driveway, STOP before crossing the sidewalk. This, the law says, must be done.

Mrs. Clyde Lovelace of 4306 Newport Ave., president of the San Diego Choral club, asks The News to announce that there are openings for about 10 more members in the club. She asks that those interested telephone her, Bayview 7524, for further information.

The club now has about 35 members and has room for a total of about 45, she says.

Among the new members added and welcomed into the club at the club's luncheon meeting, held at the Marine Base Commissioned Officers' club Thursday, Feb. 20, was Mrs. E. D. Schactebeck of Ocean Beach.

The club is preparing for the spring concert to be presented May 12 at the San Diego Woman's clubhouse. John Philip Dalby is the conductor and Mrs. Inez Davenport the accompanist.

camping and picnic grounds adjacent to city lakes as soon as sanitary facilities are installed.

Knox said the administration wants to complete the job of re-establishing the harbor as a real port of commerce, together with carrying out the city's plan for more adequate highways into San Diego.

Reviewing the record of his administration briefly, Mayor Knox said that San Diego now has a complete sewer program, with funds in the bank and materials ordered. Funds for this purpose were obtained from the city's share of a state $90,000,000 surplus which was distributed to cities and counties, as a result of the fight of the League of California Cities while Knox was president.

In line with his slogan of last campaign that "the little things are important, too," Mayor Knox pointed to the establishment of an information desk at the Civic Center, improved garbage and rubbish collection; cleaning up of canyons to prevent dump fires and a mosquito abatement program. A system of district incinerators is a "must" for future development, he said. The administration also has modernized the city's auditing system, and has installed cost accounting at a personnel reduction, Knox said.

Designing Modern Kitchens Will Be Discussed March 6

E. W. Meise, superintendent of domestic electric sales for the San Diego Gas & Electric company and recognized throughout San Diego county as an outstanding authority on modern kitchens, will be the featured speaker this coming week when the Home Planners' Institute presents the sixth in their series of free programs on home planning Thursday evening, March 6, at the Ocean Beach Elementary school, at 7:30 p. m.

Speaking on "Modern Kitchen Design," Meise will discuss the basic rules of kitchen planning, the comparative advantages of the various shapes of kitchens, selection of color, location of proper lighting and electrical outlets and the planning of auxiliary conveniences. His talk will be illustrated with colored films showing various types of modern kitchens.

Second speaker on the program will be Ed Beale, chief of San Diego's Bureau of Sanitation, who will talk on "Plumbing Installation and Fixtures." Beale will discuss various types of bathroom plans, selection of fixtures and the planning of bathroom accessories. Included in the discussion will be valuable hints on the care of plumbing to insure longer life and few repairs.

The free programs are being presented in the interests of prospective home owners and new home builders by the adult education program. The Institute is sponsored by leading business organizations.

WELCH AND ROENICKE OPEN NEW REALTY FIRM AT VOLTAIRE AND BACON

Tallie M. Welch and Walter O. Roenicke have completed remodeling the former Colonial Cleaners building at 5000 Voltaire St. and have opened a realty office at that address. Both men are long time residents of the Ocean Beach area, Mr. Welch having lived in this community for 17 years and Mr. Roenicke nearly that long. Both served in World War II as naval officers.

Being property owners in this community, the two partners indicate great interest in Ocean Beach and its future. They have released the following statement regarding the operation of their new firm: "We plan to specialize in Point Loma and Beach properties. We have great faith in the future of this community and the North Shore area and intend to do our utmost toward making this one of the outstanding beach areas in Southern California."

She was in a wholesale house at 808 Broadway and she says, "I had just taken up the telephone to talk to my daughter in Hollywood when I heard a crash like thunder and I thought, this is surely the end of the world. OCEAN BEACH SCHOOL NEWS

The first issue of the sixth grade's newspaper, "The Blue and Gold," appeared last week. On the staff are Sandra Goetz, Sally Bonham, Cordelia Wedgewood, Shirley Batt and Dixie Rogers.

The fourth grade children of room 14, Miss Eleta Lipp's group, have begun the study of California, beginning with the life of the California Indian before the Spaniards came.

Malcolm Farmer of the "Museum of Man," came to school and talked to the children of rooms 13 and 14 about the Diegueno Indians. He brought exhibits of California Indian handcraft from the Museum.

These fourth grade children have constructed a miniature Indian village of reeds and branches, similar to the kind of village made by the Central Valley and Southern California Indians.

Bob Crane brought tules from his ranch near Encinitas to be used in the construction of this village.

The first grade children of Miss Myrtle Boettcher's group recently visited a grocery store. A nature study trip followed. Good citizenship, respect for people and property were emphasized.

Miss Case's first graders, as an outgrowth of their farm unit, gave a program for both morning kindergartens on Tuesday. Songs of farm life, a play "The Little Red Hen" and a dance, "The Paw Paw Patch," were offered. The children wore paper hats which they had made.

Two performances of a magic show, for lower and upper grades, provided breathless entertainment Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 25.

DON LARSEN SELECTED CAPTAIN OF LEAGUE'S ALL-STAR HOOP TEAM

Don Larsen, star basketball point-getter for the Point Loma high school team, was unanimously chosen this week as captain and forward of the Metropolitan league All-Star team for 1947. He scored 94 points in the five league games he played. Also chosen on the all-league honorary team was Ralph Silva at guard. The other three all-stars named were Len Busch at forward, Ken Tennison at center and Dick Baker at guard, all of the champion Grossmont basketball team.

NEW HARRY WILLIAMS HOME OUTSTANDING

View Windows Used In All Nine Rooms of "Shalon" House

Outstanding views of the ocean and other surrounding scenic scenes have reached practically the maximum attainable in the new two-story nine-room residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Williams. They recently moved into their new home, of which Contractor Williams himself was the builder, and which they have named "Shalon House," after their two children. The name is a combination of Sharry, their little daughter, and Lonnie their little son.

Their new residence is at 4763 Santa Cruz Ave. and is the outstanding unit of their numerous residence properties located on Sunset Cliffs Blvd. and Santa Cruz Ave. They began construction of the courts about five years ago. "Shalon House" not only has two full stories but a full basement containing a two-car garage and with iron beams instead of the usual wooden joists as an unusual construction feature. The basement also has a refrigerator room. The house has three bathrooms, one on each floor, and thermostat controlled gas furnace heating system.

Besides the unusually large and strategically located view windows in every room, other features are a massive fireplace, wrought iron railing between the living and dining rooms, block pattern hardwood floors.

The top floor with its three bedrooms and playroom features bedroom furniture that has been manufactured by Mr. Williams himself and an outdoor patio and barbecue, with glassed-in windbreak yet to be constructed.

A walled-in front yard features flower gardens with 60 roses of various kinds already planted as well as lawn.

Telephone Inventor To Be Honored on Radio Broadcast

Commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, the "Telephone Hour" on the radio will be devoted on Monday, March 3, to a special full hour broadcast of music and drama. The program will be heard over all NBC stations from 9 to 10 p. m., announces A. V. Engel, district manager of the Southern California Telephone company.

Guest artists for the evening will be Helen Traubel, Jascha Heifetz and Raymond Massey.

Miss Traubel, famed Metropolitan Wagnerian soprano, and Mr. Heifetz, violin virtuoso, will appear as concert soloists for the musical portion of the program. Mr. Heifetz will open the program with "Valse" from Tchaikowsky's "Serenade for Strings." One of Miss Traubel's solos will be the aria, "Voi lo Sapete," from Mascagni's opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Lock Your Car

Do not leave anything of value in your parked automobile . . . or, if you do, be sure it's locked!

This was the warning issued yesterday by Lt. Bruce Weston, officer in charge of the local police station. He stated that numerous thefts have been reported recently in this vicinity.

Especially important to the motorist is to not leave ignition keys in parked cars—otherwise no car, perhaps!

Social Hygiene to Be Discussed by P. T. A. Study Group

(By Mrs. Ralph Follick)

Miss Vesta Petersen, principal of the Ocean Beach Elementary school, will be the guest speaker at the next Parent-Teacher association Study Group meeting Wednesday, March 5 at 1 p. m. in the school auditorium. She will explain how the "Lessons on Social Hygiene" are being set up at the school and what they consist of; also how the children and parents are prepared so all will derive the greatest benefit from the project. The study of "social hygiene" is confined at present to the boys and girls of the sixth grade only. On Friday, February 28, Miss Petersen is calling a meeting of sixth grade mothers to prepare them for the lessons that will later be given to the children.

All parents interested in this vital field of social hygiene are cordially invited to attend the Study Group meeting. The discussion will not be limited entirely to sixth grade problems.

General Meeting March 11

The March general meeting of the P. T. A. will be held in the school auditorium Tuesday, March 11, at 1:30 p. m. The members are asked to mark their calendars now so they will not miss this date. A varied program is promised with a special talk on books for elementary school children that help to build interest in and tolerance of peoples in other lands. The speaker will be Miss Josephine E. Lynch, supervising librarian of the children's department of the San Diego public library. Newly elected officers will be installed and the sixth graders will put on a puppet show. Music will be provided by the recently formed Mothers' chorus who sang at the February meeting.

Another evening of fun together is promised parents by the Ocean Beach P. T. A. Saturday, March 1, when a square dance will be held in the Ocean Beach school auditorium. The dance starts at 8 p. m. Tickets are available at the door.

NEED GREAT FOR LEGISLATIVE RECESS

One of the finest practices observed by Cailfornia lawmakers is the practice of recessing during legislative periods in order to give democratic processes a chance to function through contact between the people and their elected repre- the national debt.

For the next several weeks, the State Legislature, into whose hopper approximately 4000 bills have been poured, will be inoperative while its 120 members sound out public sentiment in town and country to learn how the people really feel about present laws and proposed new ones.

Four thousand is just too many new bills, even for the populous state of California. There ought to be some way to hold down that number in order that the legislature's committees can have the time necessary to act intelligently on them.

HOW MUCH IS A TRILLION?

When discussing finances we rarely get into the trillions even in these days when the supply of ciphers is severely strained by the figures needed to express the cost of war or the natioanl debt.

But the year 1946 did account for at least one figure in excess of one trillion dollars. It was the total amount of checks debited to individual bank accounts in the United States. The exact figure as reported by the American Banker was $1,050,-$054,000.00.

This enormous sum is 2½ times the 1939 total. It reflects, of course, the rise in business volume and the high price level as compared to that of seven years ago. But it also indicates the increasing use of banking facilities by the general public especially in regard to checking accounts.

Not so many years ago the average man paid most of his bills in cash. This necessitated both the inconvenience of carrying the money with him and of going to the places where his bills were payable. Now most people simply draw a check against their bank account and mail it. This is not only easier, safer and less time consuming, but it gives them a better record of the payments they have made.

Incidentally, have you ever figured out how much a trillion dollars is? It's a mere one thousand billions or one million millions.

CHRISTENING CEREMONY HELD AT LOCAL CHURCH FOR KENNETH RALPH GALL

A christening ceremony was conducted at the Sunday morning service at the Point Loma Methodist church last Sunday for Kenneth Ralph Gall, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gall of 4844 Bermuda Ave. Baby Kenneth was born on Friday, Jan. 31, at Mercy hospital at 11:30 a. m. and weighed six pounds and four ounces at birth. She plans to return to Maryland leaving here March 1.

Norma J. Belloff Writes Diary of Her Bicycle Tour

Miss Norma Jean Belloff is now nearing El Paso, Texas, on her bicycle tour to the eastern part of the United States, this week reports her mother, Mrs. F. H. Belloff of 2111 Mendocino Blvd.

Norma is keeping a diary of the trip as well as writing more detailed account in letters being received by her mother. Norma's diary for the trip up to and including Feb. 2 is provided for publication by Mrs. Belloff and contains the following interesting travelog:

January 22—Spent the day in Pine Valley horseback riding. Made friends with a grand family.

January 23—Left Pine Valley at 10, rode till 3. Found a lovely mountain brook and took the rest of the day enjoying it.

January 24—Started 7:30, finished going over the Lagunas, coasted 12 miles. Reached El Centro at 3:30. Paid for a spot in a trailer camp there.

January 25—Looked El Centro over. Had bike pump stolen. Slept at trailer camp.

January 26—Went to a rodeo at Brawley. Trailer camp again.

January 27—Met Warren and Margaret Ripley, brother and sister. Went to a show with Warren. Had dinner in the pair's trailer.

January 28—More of El Centro in a dust storm. Spent afternoon at "Lettuce packer's" hangout where Margaret was waiting for work. Saw what a "wine-o" is. Took a ride and walk in the wind with Warren who is a "government man."

January 29—Rode from 9:00 to 4:00, El Centro to "American Sahara." Slept among the dunes.

January 30—Rode canal boat that fires weeds in the All-American Canal. Cycled from 12 to 4:30. People at Airlines Cafe, just outside of Yuma were very kind. Stayed in their back yard for night.

January 31—Browsed in old prison museum and gawked about Yuma after leaving pack at Airlines Cafe. Stayed there another night.

February 1—Cycled hard, turned down more offers of rides. 8:30 to 6:30. Dragged weary self into dusty wash 66 miles from Yuma. Spread sage brush to keep bedding out of clay dust.

February 2—Passed through endless desert, 8 to 4:30. Had picture taken 3 times. Met more wonderful people. Fought wind from speeding cars. Have to stay at Gila Bend for night to get mail in morning. I am very tired but completely happy!

Editor's Note—Too much home news left no space for serial story this week, so "Tomorrow Is Forever," will be continued in an early issue.
